Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 17 October 2005.
 2a) This action is FINAL. 2b) This action is non-final.
 3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/17/2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim1-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Treptow et al (U.S. Pub No. 2002/0138564 A1) and Lahey et al (U.S. Pub No. 2005/0228711A1).

4. As per claims 1, 5, 14, 18, 19, 20, 24, 33 & 37 Treptow disclosed a method for monitoring a web-based service, comprising the steps of: receiving automatically at a client a service reference to a status of a job in a network service (paragraphs 19-23, 41, 59 & 62), adding the service reference to a bookmark list on the client (paragraph. 88); determining the status of the job; and removing automatically the service reference from the bookmark list when the job is completed by the network service, wherein the determining step comprises receiving a message from the service indicating an event (paragraph.82, 88 & 89). However Treptow did not explicitly disclose wherein the removing step includes the step of automatically removing the service reference if no message indicating an event is received from the network service for a predetermined period of time.

In the same field of endeavor Lahey disclosed wherein the removing step includes the step of automatically removing the service reference if no message indicating an event is received from the network service for a predetermined period of time (paragraph.77).

It would have been obvious to one in the ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated the removal of service reference (job status information) if no message indicating an event is received as disclosed by Lahey in the method of monitoring a web-based service as disclosed by Treptow in order to upgrade the status of the service reference resulting in a most up to date and pertinent information regarding the status of the jobs to the user.

5. As per claims 2 & 21 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the network service is a printer service, and the job is a print job (Treptow, paragraphs. 9 & 41).

6. As per claims 3 & 22 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the service reference is a URL to a status page for the network service (Treptow, paragraphs 86 & 87).

7. As per claims 4 & 23 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the service reference is provided when the network service is accessed (Treptow, paragraphs.41, 59).
8. As per claims 6 & 25 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 5, wherein the bookmark list is maintained within a user profile in the user's personal imaging repository (Treptow, paragraphs 62, 81 & 82).
9. As per claims 7 & 26 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 1, further comprising the step of determining the status of the job (Treptow, paragraphs.41& 59).
10. As per claims 8 & 27 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 7, wherein the determining step comprises querying the network service to determine if a job impediment has occurred (Treptow, paragraph.85).
11. As per claims 9 & 28 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 7, wherein the determining step comprises querying the network service to determine an indication of what amount of the job is complete (Treptow, paragraph.84).
12. As per claims 10 & 29 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 7, wherein the determining step comprises receiving a message from the network service indicating an event (Treptow, paragraphs.53 & 62).

13. As per claims 11 & 30 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 10, wherein the receiving a message step comprises receiving the message at a bookmark management software (Treptow, paragraphs.36, 37 & 70).

14. As per claims 12 & 31 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 10, wherein the receiving a message step comprises receiving a message of one or more of the following: print job completed, copies printed, and error (Treptow, paragraphs.20 & 61).

15. As per claims 13 & 32 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined 1, further comprising storing the service reference to a storage associated with the user (Treptow, paragraph.60).

16. As per claims 15 & 34 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 14, further comprising the step of adding a plurality of clickable references to be displayed on a user screen, each clickable reference associated with a different service reference for opening a different status web page having information about the status of its respective job (Treptow, paragraphs 86, 87 & 89).

17. As per claims 16 & 35 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 1, further comprising the step of adding a window associated with the network service to a user screen to display therein a status web page with direct or indirect information about the status of at least one job (Treptow, paragraphs 71, 86, 87 & 89).

18. As per claims 17 & 36 Treptow-Lahey disclosed the method as defined in claim 1, wherein the bookmark list lists only job status service references (Treptow, paragraphs. 70, 81 & 82).

Response to Arguments

19. Applicant's arguments filed 08/16/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

20. Applicant argued “nowhere in these passages (or elsewhere in Triptow or Srinivasan) do the cited reference teach or suggest adding the service reference to a bookmark list on client and then removing automatically the service reference from the bookmark list on the client when the job is completed by the network service in the manner as recited by claim 1.

21. As per applicants argument Triptow disclosed adding the service reference (job/task status information defined in paragraph.41) in a list belonging to an appropriate job status tab accessible by a user/administrator (paragraph.59, 88 and figures 11-16) and removing them automatically once they are completed (paragraph.82).

22. Applicant argued ““nowhere in these passages (or elsewhere in Triptow or Srinivasan) do the cited reference teach or suggest receiving automatically at a client a service reference to a status of a job in a network service”.

23. As to applicants argument Triptow clearly disclosed receiving a service reference indicating the status of the job in a network service (see paragraphs.15, 41, 59 & figures 11-15).
